SENATOR WHEELER FREED BY FEDERAL COURT JURY

VERDICT WAS EXPECTED BY TRIAL CROWD

Senator Receives Telegram Announcing Birth of Daughter in Washington

By Associated Press
Great Falls, Mont.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, late vice presidential candidate and political storm center, basked Saturday in the double distilled sunshine of fortune.

This followed what developed to be a red letter event in the Wheeler family Friday night when he stood in federal court here and received two messages simultaneously—his acquittal of a charge of wrongfully using his senatorial influence with the interior department and the other announcing the birth of a daughter in the Wheeler home in Washington.

The verdict was returned two hours and 13 minutes after the jury had retired to deliberate, and out of this time it took one hour for dinner. But one ballot was taken.

In spite of an admonition to spectators by Federal Judge Frank S. Dietrich that there must be no demonstration in the court room there was a rush for the senator when the verdict was read. In his hand he held the telegram announcing the birth of a daughter.

He strode over to the jury box and shook hands with each of the 12 men who passed on his case.

CONCERNED FOR WIFE

Retiring from the courtroom, he issued a statement in which he declared that the verdict was what he expected and thanking senator Walsh, his chief attorney for his services. He also said in the statement that his concern for Mrs. Wheeler was greater during the trial than was his anxiety over his case.

Senator Wheeler was indicted here April 2, 1924, by a federal grand jury on a charge of accepting a fee of $4,000 from Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator for appearing after his election to the senate before the department of the interior in procuring oil land permits for his client.

He branded the indictment as "palpably a frame-up and blamed the department of justice, which he was investigating at the time as prosecutor of the Senate Daugherty investigating committee. Next day the Senate started an investigation of the case and in the end "wholly exonerated" him.

Trial of the case started here April 16, after many delays. The government introduced a mass of documentary evidence which it contended was proof of the charges. Senator Wheeler maintained that the fee he accepted from Campbell was for services in the Montana state courts.

The government produced as its star witness George P. Hayes, New York attorney, who testified he met Senator Wheeler by appointment in New York in March, 1923, and that the senator asked him to appear in his stead before the interior department. Senator Wheeler, who took the stand in his own behalf, denied Hayes' statements.

Fourteen Miners Escape Fire Trap By Own Effort

Wallace, Ind.—Fourteen miners, who subdued a fire on the 2,000-foot level of the Hecia silver and lead mine at Burke, seven miles from here, and escaped by their own efforts late Friday afternoon after being trapped in the mine for more than 12 hours, are the heroes of Burke Saturday and many stories are being told of their bravery and resourcefulness in the face of the danger which threatened their lives.

After battling smoke and flames for several hours, the men reached the main shaft, rang for the cage, and

CURB EMERGENCY BOARD'S POWERS

Only Three Methods of Spending State Money Left Open by Amendment

Madison—Power of the state emergency board as drastically curbed by the quick amendment to substitute No. 1 to bill 13 S in the state senate, leaves the way open for but three methods of spending state money by the board between session of the legislature.

The methods are embodied in a clause defining the meaning of the words "emergency appropriation" which in the wording of the amendment follow:

"The term 'emergency appropriation' within the meaning of this section, shall be limited to meet unforeseen emergencies and contingencies as a result of damage to works, buildings, or other property owned by the state, or as a result of epidemics of disease menacing the life and health of the people, or as a result of the lack of sufficient appropriations for state institutions with which to supply the necessary food, clothing and necessary medical care."

This amendment strikes from the present law the clause providing that funds by emergency appropriation may be used "to meet the operating expense of any state institution, department, board, commission or other body for which sufficient money has not been appropriated to carry on the regular work."

FRENCH EXCITED OVER POLITICAL SLAYINGS

By Associated Press
Paris—The ambushing of a meeting of National Republican league in the Rue Darnaud early Friday morning in which four youths were killed and more than 40 wounded, allegedly by communists, has made a deep impression on the French public.

The newspapers Saturday printed columns about the affair, and it is the outstanding topic of conversation.

The funerals of the four dead youths is to be made in imposing ceremony. There have been no arrests since the taking of Joseph Bernardon and Paul Cleri, who were seized, pistols in hand, at the scene of the shooting.

Maurice Nicoud, a student, who was one of those wounded, died in a hospital Saturday, bringing the number of deaths to four.

SMALL EARTHQUAKE IS FELT ON EAST COAST

New Bedford, Mass.—An apparent earthquake of short duration was experienced in several cities and towns bordering on the Massachusetts bay on the southern coast of Massachusetts early Friday.

Certain localities reported dishes buried from shelves and sleepers awakened.

The earthquake was recorded unofficially at the New Bedford police station at 2:58 a. m.

ST. PAUL ROAD DIDN'T ASK HELP, SAYS BOARD

Washington, D. C.—In a statement Saturday regarding the receivership of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad the interstate commerce commission declared that no formal application for financial relief ever was filed with it in behalf of the corporation prior to its announcement of inability to meet obligations.

The commission explained that proposals looking to relief had been discussed by President H. E. Bryman of the road with some of the commissioners but that the action had not been followed up.

SENATE FAVORS CIDER MEASURE

Proposal to Legalize Home-made Wine and Cider is Reported Favorably

By Associated Press
Madison—The proposal to legalize home-made wine and cider for home use, which brought State Senator Ben Gettelman, author of the bill into prominence, again has been reported favorably by the senate committee on state and local government.

The committee's second recommendation for passage followed reference of the bill to amend the state prohibition law back to it for further consideration. Senator Gettelman told the committee at its first hearing on the measure that he made wine for his own use and later invited prohibition advocates to attend a fruit juice party at his home in Milwaukee. The dry leaders failed to appear at the party and federal prohibition officials were told that the only wine in the house was for sacramental purposes.

The bill to permit standardization of milk by manufacturers of Swiss cheese, was killed finally in the assembly when reconsideration of the adverse action was refused.

DAWES APPEALS TO PEOPLE ON SENATE RULES

Will Carry Fight on Revision to Homes of Dissenting Senators This Summer

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes intends to carry his fight for a change in the senate rules directly to the people of those states whose representatives in the United States senate have not yet announced their support of his proposal.

Arrangements are being made, for instance, for mass meetings in Kansas in an effort to influence the people to persuade Senator Charles Curtis, majority leader of the senate, to agree with Mr. Dawes' viewpoint.

Senator Capper of Kansas has announced his support of Mr. Dawes and the vice president is not content to have one senator from Kansas but wants particularly the majority leader with him.

AS CHAIRMAN

Mr. Curtis is also chairman of the senate committee on rules which committee would have to consider the change and recommend or disapprove it.

A resolution embodying Mr. Dawes' ideas was introduced at the last session by Senator Underwood of Alabama and will be reintroduced when the senate meets again.

The vice president has not said as yet what other states he plans to invade. He has several dates ahead and will not hesitate to appeal in every instance to the people to write letters to the senator in question urging him to support the Dawes proposal.

He hopes to carry on his fight goodnaturedly and without personal hostility to anyone but he thinks that he can get more influence by arousing the people to action, their senators than by personal conference himself with the senators.

ONLY OPPORTUNITY

Mr. Dawes is aware of the fact that when once the senate reconvenes he will not have an opportunity to absent himself from that body and make speeches and that his sole opportunity lies in the interval that must elapse before congress comes back here in December.

The vice president has had no objection interposed to his course by President Coolidge though the latter refrains from making any public statement in support of the Dawes proposals.

COOLIDGE SILENT

Mr. Coolidge as a member of the executive branch of the government is said to feel that it would be improper for him to discuss the rules of procedure which under the constitution are matters solely for the two houses of congress to determine for themselves.

Mr. Dawes, on the other hand, is really a member of the senate and has the right to speak in it. He has also the right to cast a vote in the senate in interpreting existing rules and some observers would not be surprised if Mr. Dawes broke another precedent by using his opportunities for comment to point out to the senate defects in existing rules and urge a change.

Marx-Hindenburg Race For Presidency Will Be Close

By Associated Press
Berlin—Former Chancellor Marx, choice of the Weimar coalition or Republican bloc, and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, champion of the parties of the united right, Saturday were on the last stretch of their race for the presidency of the German republic, with neither expected to have walkaways in Sunday's polling. Political leaders say the result is fully as problematic as was the contest in the United States between Charles Evans Hughes and Woodrow Wilson in 1916.

With no tangible figures or other data available, speculators are occupying themselves with guessing at the whereabouts of that familiar but elusive election apparition, the stay-at-home vote, and the extent to which Von Hindenburg will profit by ballots cast for complimentary or sentimental reasons.

The field marshal's managers are depending upon his popularity as a war hero and his reputed non-partisanship as attractions for otherwise indolent voters and believe that any appreciable increase in the total vote as compared with previous elections will be gathered by their candidate.

The campaign which closes Saturday night has been marked by un-

BOMB THEATRE AND LIBRARY IN PROVINCES

One Soldier Killed, Two Others Wounded, in Attack on Military Patrol

CAN'T GUARANTEE PEACE

Correspondent Reports to Italy That Foreign Terrorists Threaten

By Associated Press
Sofia—Three acts of terrorism attributed to Communists occurred in Bulgarian provinces Friday night. A theatre and library in Plevna, capital of the province of the same name, and considered a Communist stronghold, were destroyed by bombs.

Unsuccessful attempts also were made to destroy three bridges in the region of Varna while in the town of Vratsa in northeastern Bulgaria a military patrol was fired upon during the night, one soldier being killed and two wounded.

Rome—The Sofia correspondent of the Messaggero telegraphs his paper that Bulgarian Minister of the Interior Rousseff has stated that the government cannot guarantee that no more attempts at outrages will be made because, he said, terrorists committees in other countries threaten to cause new attacks in Bulgaria. Rousseff renews the charge that explosives used in the recent cathedral bombing came from Jugo-Slavia. The Jugo-Slavia minister at Sofia presented a strong official protest against such charges which have been derisively by other Jugo-Slav officials.

The despatch also said the Serbian minister may leave Sofia as tangible protest against the alleged attitude of the Bulgarian government in suspecting Serbia of complicity in causing the Bulgarian disturbances.

It was officially denied, according to this despatch, that the Agrarian leader, Granciaroff, has been executed, or that he has even been arrested. It is rumored that Granciaroff found a safe refuge in the Serbian legation. It also was officially denied that the Communist leaders, Petriti and Friedmann, have been executed. Government officials said they wept and begged for mercy when surrounded by soldiers with fixed bayonets and offered to confess if their lives would be spared.

The situation in Bulgaria as reflected by dispatches from Sofia and outside points, apparently is calmer, a fact which is attributed in some foreign quarters to counsels of moderation by the American and British ministers.

Bulgaria's neighbors, however, are in a state of anxiety lest her troubles, which the Sofia authorities ascribe to a Communist plot, spread to their own territories.

Rumania appears to have become fully alive to the danger threatening the Balkans, Sofia advises say, and is lending Bulgaria every assistance while Greece maintains a more or less neutral attitude.

Jugo-Slavia's position is not so clear and Berlin dispatches say German government circles emphasize the danger of possible Jugo-Slav intervention in Bulgaria, which they point out might easily lead to another Balkan war.

HAVE UNRAVELLED PLOT

The Bulgarian government professes to be in complete possession of the details of the plot for the bombing of the Sveti Kral cathedral in Sofia last week, the disaster which, coming on top of the attempt against King Boris and the assassination of General Grahoff, brought the declaration of martial law and the present situation.

The authorities say the plot was carried out by Bulgarians paid lavishly for their work by Communists who remained in the background awaiting the outcome.

BOARD ADDS 75 MILES TO COUNTY HIGHWAY SYSTEM

$300 MILE AID EXPECTED FROM GASOLINE TAX

Only Roads Which Should Be on County System Were Added, Brusewitz Says

Approximately 75 miles of road were added to the county trunk line system Saturday morning when the county board of supervisors adopted an official map of county trunk highways. It is expected that this action will obviate the necessity of calling a special session of the board for the purpose of making any further additions.

When the roll call was taken on the adoption, Supervisor John Schmidt, Kaukauna, was the only member voting against it. His reason for doing so, he said, was because he believed that supervisors had not had sufficient time to examine the needs for revisions of the system.

The county trunk line system with the additions was mapped out by the county highway committee and A. G. Brusewitz, highway commissioner, with the aid of suggestions from supervisors. Friday evening 69 miles, agreed upon an additional 69 miles, but additional 75 miles were added to the county trunk line system. The county system, as revised, contains between 250 and 275 miles, Mr. Brusewitz estimated.

Among the more important additions are the following: A road starting in Freedom and proceeding north through the Oneda reservation to connect with county trunk line S and state highway 54 near Seymour; a road following the south side of the Fox river from Kaukauna toward De Pere; the town line road of Center and Freedom; a road starting at highway 47 and connecting with county trunk J about two miles north of the town line of Grand Chute; a road leading from highway 18 (Wisconsin) one and a half miles west of highway 47 and proceeding north to connect with 47 at about four miles south of Black Creek village; a road leading from the intersection of the tracks northward of Hortonville to the Winnebago line.

CONNECTING ROADS
Other roads added are: A road leading from Stephentown northeast to highway 47; a road starting at county trunk G and going north to Shawano-co line; a road connecting highway 76 with E; a road proceeding from D east to highway 76; a road leading from Leeman northeast to Shawano-co line; a road starting at highway 55 near Seymour and going east to Brown-co line.

No roads were added in the towns of Greenville, Bovina, Black Creek, Vandenberg, Kaukauna, Buchanan and Liberty, mostly for the reasons that these towns are either already well provided with county trunk lines or state highways or that there are no roads which will at present link well with county trunk lines or bordering counties. Mr. Brusewitz said that only such roads were added which in all fairness deserve to be put on the system at this time.

All roads, whether added at this time or later on, are subject to the approval of the state highway commission, but roads recognized as parts of the county system will be entitled in 1926 to the county highway allotment of $300 a mile according to the motor vehicle weight tax and gasoline tax. All other roads will be entitled to only $25 a mile, while roads in cities will receive $50 to $100 a mile.

Some of the members still stood out for a special session this spring for the purpose of adding more roads, if found necessary. But Supervisors Beck, Knapstein and Schultz expressed confidence in the judgment of the highway commissioner and highway committee as to the selection of the roads. They also declared that nothing was to hinder the county board from adding more roads at any time, subject to the approval of the state highway commission. The commission would be fair in its decisions, it was concluded.

WEATHER FOR WISCONSIN
Generally fair tonight and Sunday. Cooler.

GENERAL WEATHER

A low pressure area which has been causing unsettled and stormy weather in this section now has moved toward Hudson Bay territory. Another low pressure area was appearing over the northern Alberta Saturday morning, but so far it does not display much strength. Quite high pressure from the Pacific ocean is invading the far western states with fair and cool weather eastward to the Rockies. There were no pronounced barometric weather outlines evident in the central portion of the country Saturday morning which favors the continuation of the present conditions over Sunday, at least, with fair weather and with moderate temperature.

ROHAN RECEIVES SCHOOL CONTRACT

Board of Education Writes Finis to Dispute Over Election Legality

Ben J. Rohan, now principal of Second district schools, was given his contract as superintendent of schools at a meeting of the board of education Friday evening, after the opinion of Attorney General Herman Litch declaring Rohan's election last January legal had been read. This ended a long dispute arising from the claim that election of school superintendent can be held only in June. In addition to giving Mr. Rohan his contract, the board of education engaged 13 additional teachers for the two new junior high schools.

According to present plans approximately 40 teachers will be needed for both schools. The board has combined several classes to cut down the number, but expects to engage three or four more teachers.

The instructors engaged Friday night were B. M. Schoepner, Edna Becker and Verna Zuehlke for matriculates, Werner A. Wittig, Francis Colein, Webster Krueger and Irma Roemer, for general sciences; Pauline Litch for domestic arts; Leonard Peterson and Armand Gerhardt for printing and journalism; Edith Small, Ole Jergensen and Lucile Dinsor for physical education. Mary Orblum was engaged as nurse for the two schools.

CAR STATION WORKER KNOCKED DOWN BY CAR

Steve Schneider, employee of the Schlafers service station, escaped with various bruises and contusions Saturday morning when he was hit by an automobile in the alley south of E. Collegegate, between S. Oneda and S. Appleton-ets. The car was driven by Victor Hagen, a salesman employed by the Thom Auto Co.

Schneider, according to his statement, stepped out of the door of the Schlafers repair shop and directly in front of Hagen's car. He was carried to the front of the car for several feet and then dropped off to the concrete pavement. Both wheels were skinned, his right leg bruised and a large bump raised back of his right ear.

BANKRUPT SILO BUILDER HAS $2,400 LIABILITIES

George F. Wolff of Appleton, a silo builder, was adjudged an involuntary bankrupt Friday, and the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of the referee in bankruptcy at 2 o'clock on May 5.

Mr. Wolff held assets of $1,200, of which he claimed exemption of $500, and liabilities of $2,400.

One-fourth Of Monument Fund In Legion Treasury

Appleton has gone about one-fourth of the way in discharging its obligation to the Civil War veterans. It has given $550 to date toward the fund of $2,000 which Oney Johnston post of the American legion is raising for a monument to be placed on the Grand Army of the Republic burial plot at Riverside cemetery.

It will take the gifts of many persons, firm or organizations, perhaps as many as 500, to complete the campaign. Every reader therefore can see what is up to him to do if the monument is to be unveiled Memorial day and paid for in full.

Everybody should give, the rich and the poor, the adult and the child, so it can be said that all Appleton joined in providing the memorial shaft. Your contribution should be made today. All money is received at the Post-Crescent office and turned over to the American legion for the monument fund. Make checks payable to "G. A. R. Memorial Fund."

Among the contributors not mentioned previously are:
Henry Lenz, Frank Bomler, Dr. H. K. Pratt, W. K. C. Sunshine club, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Packard, Mrs. Helen Dean, George T. Richard, Delmar Peterson, Pettibone-Peabody Co., Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Glaser, Charles G. Schultz, Doris E. Toll, Milton J. Toll, Winston D. Glaser, Dwayne R. 2 SPEAKERS FOR HOME BUILDERS GET READY FOR CLEAN-UP TRUCK

Interior Finish Will Be Discussed at Institute in Y. M. C. A. Monday

Whether a new house will be attractive and comfortable and unattractive after the work is completed depends on the finishing, according to Robert Stammer, head of the Badger Decorating Co., who will be the first speaker on the double header program of the Homebuilders Institute Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The security, convenience and beauty of a house may be spoiled by the use of inappropriate or poor quality finishing hardware also, according to C. L. Boynton, activities secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who will be the second speaker of the evening. Mr. Boynton had 19 years experience as manager of a hardware store in the south.

The feature of the meeting will be an exhibit of paints, varnishes, wall papers and other decorating materials by several Appleton dealers. At least two exhibits of standard lines of locks and building hardware will be displayed.

FOSTER INVITED TO BE "Y" STATE SECRETARY

Word was received by George F. Wolff, secretary of Appleton Y. M. C. A., from H. F. Lindsay, president of the state Y. M. C. A. executive committee, that an official call has been issued to Perley Foster, general secretary of the Lynn, Mass., association, asking him to become Wisconsin state secretary.

Mr. Foster was entertained in this city last Friday while making an invited trip of state associations at the invitation of the state Y. M. C. A. His reply is expected within a few days. Mr. Foster has been at the head of state and county "Y" work and after that state secretary for New Hampshire for nine years before taking his present position at Lynn.

LEMBKE MONEY NEVER GOT TO BANK COFFERS

Witnesses Tell of Simon Cheese Co. Fraud as Case Is Adjourned to Monday

An adjournment was declared by Judge Edgar V. Werner Friday evening in the circuit court case of William Lembke vs. First National bank, R. S. Powell, J. H. Kerr and J. F. Hovorka. The suit will be resumed at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Jurors were instructed to permit no one talk with them about the case in the meantime.

As the progress of the trial was interrupted E. L. McIntyre, Milwaukee, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, had just finished reading the direct examination of a deposition given by J. F. Hovorka. The part dealing with the cross-examination, conducted by Attorney V. J. Minahan, Green Bay, counsel for the bank, will be the first thing to be introduced when the case is resumed next week. The suit was begun on Monday.

DIDN'T REACH BANKS
Among the salient developments of the trial Friday were:

The $31,500 of N. Simon Cheese company stock purchased by William Lembke was used by the company for general purposes and was never paid on any indebtedness to the First National bank, but that after the sale of stock the company owed the bank more money than it owed before. This was testified by E. A. Dettman, accountant, who made an audit of the Simon company books after it went into the receiver's hands. Lembke bases his suit on the allegation that he bought the stock upon recommendations of the bank's officials.

Mr. Dettman further testified that it was evident that the books of the Simon Cheese company were kept not for the purpose of giving information but in order to deceive people. He said he never saw a more dishonest or confused set of books. When Simon reported making profits the books were made to conform although there were no profits. At one time Simon was personally overdrawn for about $50,000. The books didn't show the amount of money owing to the First National bank, it was testified.

FICTITIOUS ACCOUNT
One of the peculiarities of the N. Simon company books, according to Mr. Dettman's testimony, were accounts kept with fictitious persons. One of these was the Pendar Cheese company account, which purported that the company owed the N. Simon Cheese company a total of $128,000, when there was no such company in existence.

Another of the witnesses introduced by the plaintiff Friday was Frank J. Zufelt, Sheboygan, who had previously been involved in litigation on Simon cheese stock affairs. He testified that when in September, 1921, he was approached by a representative of the J. F. Hovorka & Co., stock broker, to buy Simon stock, he called up R. S. Powell, president of the First National Bank, for his opinion of the stock. He was told, he said, that the cheese company was one of the oldest and most prosperous businesses in Appleton, that the company had a contract with Armour & Co. to sell them its entire output of cheese, all of which made the company secure.

Under cross-examination by Attorney Minahan he admitted that at a hearing conducted by the state railroad rate commission he had testified that he never asked Powell anything about the value of the Simon stock. He added that when he gave that testimony he meant "market value."

The attorney asked if in the railroad commission testimony there had ever been any mention of the word "market value," and Zufelt replied, "It never was brought up, but that's what he was talking about."

HELP WAS PROMISED
Asked by Mr. Minahan if Hovorka had not promised to pay all legal expenses if Zufelt would bring suit against the First National bank, the witness replied that his impression was that Hovorka had only told him he intended to sue the Simon company for $100,000. He was again asked whether at the railroad commission hearing Hovorka had not said to Zufelt, "I told you to sit tight and that I would pay all your legal expenses." The witness admitted that Hovorka made the statement at that time. An extract of a letter was produced and showed the witness but was not read in court. He was asked if Hovorka had not written him that, and he remarked that he could not remember any reference to the First National bank. When he presumed that he had some of the Hovorka correspondence at home, he was told to send it to the clerk of court.

The deposition of J. F. Hovorka, Jr., at Minneapolis on March 3, 1923, the direct examination by Charles E. Carpenter, Chicago, counsel for Lembke, that he had been introduced to R. S. Powell by Simon at the time he was engaged to sell stock for the company. At the time Simon said he stood well with the bank and had a good line of credit, and added that Hovorka ought to meet the banker as he would have many an occasion to refer to him in approaching prospective stockholders. When he met Mr. Powell the latter said he considered Simon Cheese company one of the fastest growing concerns in Appleton. He said, however, that the banker had not agreed to recommend the stock to anyone.

TELLS OF VALUES
W. H. Zuehlke, appointed by the court in May, 1922, to act as receiver of the company, took the stand Friday to testify of the assets, appraisals and sale of property of the company since he assumed control of it. Under direct examination by Attorney McIntyre, he said that the appraisal showed the real estate of the plant to be worth $20,000, that of the four country factories $8,000 and the machinery and equipment about $10,025, or a total value of $38,025. There were two patents one of which he sold for $500. Funds on hand at present total between $6,000 and $7,000, he said. Unsecured claims against the company, however, aggregated $264,471.74. The unsold assets include two lots in Appleton, two country factories and some personal property, much of which is unsalable.

Accounts receivable that are possibly collectible total $290 to $300. There are $900 in notes receivable for payment of stock and $400 in other notes receivable that are not collectible.

Admitting under cross-examination by Attorney Minahan that he took over all the correspondence on file at the company, he was asked to verify a letter written to Nick Simon by J. F. Hovorka, Jr. on Sept. 27, 1921. The letter was produced from the files of the testimony before the railroad commission and Mr. Zuehlke recognized it as the one he had loaned the commission.

It read in part as follows: "Dear Nick - Answering your favor of Sept. 24 with reference to the letter received by you dated Sept. 23 from the railroad commission, please assume the position at all times that your stock is being purchased by J. F. Hovorka & Co. under a contract executed last February. It is necessary that you have this idea firmly in mind and act on the same at all times. The reason for this is that if you consider that your stock is being subscribed, then our applications for stock should read to the N. Simon Cheese company, and would have to have written on their face the clause relative to the fact that there is not more than 15 per cent paid for the sale of said stock, and this is what I am trying to avoid, as in many cases it brings on complications and argument. This letter is written to you confidentially. I would like to have you forward to me the letter referred to in the railroad commission's letter on Sept. 23."

NO AID UNTIL CHERRY-ST IS STATE ROUTE

Highway Engineer Tells Property Owners He Doesn't Want to Deal With Them

State highway building aid cannot be given the city for paving of Cherry-st until it is made a state trunk highway and no state highway traffic will be routed over this street until it is improved.

This is the answer given the city and county by C. C. Rollman, Green Bay, division engineer of the state highway commission, when asked at a conference what Appleton could expect with respect to additional money for this street.

The meeting was attended by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., Outagamie-co highway committee, Alderman Charles Fose, chairman of the street and bridge committee, Alderman Charles Thompson, chairman of the finance committee, R. M. Connelly, city engineer, and Alderman George T. Rickard, Mike Sinnhauser and Wenzel Hassmann, members of a special committee appointed by the council to endeavor to obtain more aid for the paving project.

Mr. Rollman explained how the state highway law works since its revision. He declared in answer to questions that counties seldom give as much as $20,000 toward any city paving project such as this and he believed such a sum was in excess of the average. He was told of the $15,000 appropriation for Lominwah-st and declared the amount given there was in a locality where property is assessed for much less than on Cherry-st. He then made his statement that Cherry-st could not possibly be given state aid until a state highway is routed there, and that none could be so chartered until the street is improved properly.

P. H. Ryan, who was chairman of the highway committee at the time county aid was voted for Cherry-st, declared that $12,000 was appropriated because it was felt that sum was enough. Estimates prepared at that time, he said, indicated that $12,000 would pave a 12-foot strip for the entire distance if the intersections were not included.

Mr. Rollman declared that the state highway commission preferred to deal with the board of public works in matters of this kind and not with the people living along these streets. He expressed himself also as favoring a street as wide even as 40 feet to carry the traffic.

Special Delivery
Stamps For Parcels

New special delivery stamps are about to be issued for use on parcels subject to increased delivery fees provided for in the recent postal rate and pay increase law, according to a bulletin issued by the United States postal administration. The denomination of these stamps will be 20 cents. They will be of the same shape and size as the current 10 cent special delivery stamp, but will be printed in black ink.

The central design will be a motor truck standing before a postoffice, with a carrier loading parcels into it for special delivery. At the top of the stamp will be a curved ribbon bearing the inscription "special delivery" in dark letters. Below this and above the picture of the truck will be printed "United States Postage" in white letters over the inscription "At any United States Postoffice." In a panel at the bottom of the stamp will be inscribed "twenty cents," and in each corner the numeral 20 will appear in black.

The first issue was made at the Washington, D. C. postoffice on Saturday. Other post offices will be supplied as fast as the new stamps can be turned out.

Chautauqua Gets
3 Lawrence Groups

Carl McKee, member of Lawrence Conservatory faculty, is training three companies of Lawrence students for chautauqua work with the United Chautauqua company of Des Moines, Iowa, this summer. The group, which includes 23 persons, will leave school on June 7 and will tour the central states for ten weeks. Their itinerary will embrace the Dakotas, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan.

The companies consist of two double male quartets and a seven piece orchestra. They will travel in separate groups on separate circuits. Mr. McKee, who has trained and organized companies for the United Chautauqua for seven years, declares that there is an increase every year in the opportunities of college students for summer work in this field. There is already opportunity for three companies of girls, demanding twenty-four girls, for the summer of 1925.

CHURCH COUNCIL CONSIDERED BY SCHOOL HEADS

The advisability of taking a religious census in Appleton will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Appleton School Superintendents club Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting will be preceded by a supper at 6:30. The club is composed of Sunday school superintendents of cooperating churches of Appleton and representatives of the religious schools and Y. M. C. A. Ministers of the cooperating churches have been invited to attend and take part in the discussion.

Dr. Verrill B. Scott of the Memorial Presbyterian church will give a report of a religious census taken in Minneapolis while he was in that city and others from all over the country will be reported on the methods and results of each discussed. No action will be taken for some time however.

Start Job Bureau At Lawrence "Y"

To provide work for all college men desiring it is the aim of the college Y. M. C. A. for next fall, under the new administration recently elected. The association plans to institute an employment bureau under the supervision of Lowell Huelster of Oshkosh, head of the social committee for next year.

According to Mr. Huelster, the intent is to provide employment service for those who seek part time work and for those who desire steady employment. Townspeople who desire students to do odd jobs from time to time will be able to secure help from the bureau.

The incentive to found the bureau was of a letter from two prospective students for next year, asking help in obtaining work next fall so they might work their way through college. Service of this nature is maintained by the Y. M. C. A.'s of larger colleges and universities.

The "Y" cabinet next year will be composed of Winifred Bird, River Falls, devotional chairman; George Christensen, Oshkosh, publicity; Lowell Huelster, head of the social committee; Reed Hevens, Long Beach, Calif., religious education.

The only provisions asked is that those wishing to avail themselves of the room service write at once.

Dr. R. C. Mullenix, dean of freshmen, fourteen on probation had their probation extended so as to continue to show that they were capable of doing satisfactory college work; and three on probation had their conditions removed.

Several freshmen, previously in good standing, now find themselves on the list of probationers because of poor work during the winter quarter. Fourteen received warning that they failed to make a satisfactory number of required grade points.

The work with freshmen is supervised by the freshmen council consisting of Professor Mullenix, Weston, McPheeters, Rogers, Ingler, Raney, Cast, Griffiths, and Clippinger. A close and constant vigil has been kept on the work of the yearlings, and the freshmen council plans to continue, Dean Mullenix declares.

Ingler Studies Business Problem

Lawrence Professor Will Tell
Green Bay How to Develop
Its Trade

Prof. F. M. Ingler of Lawrence college will be the principal speaker at the big get-together dinner meeting of the retail merchants of Green Bay Tuesday evening, April 28, in the Fannie Joannes Memorial hall, Green Bay. The meeting will be featured by the report of the special committee now working on a plan for the development of greater business from the big territory surrounding Green Bay.

Prof. Ingler, a lecturer in the rural life problems section of the department of social science, has made a deep study of trade extension problems, particularly in agricultural districts and has been in demand by cities in the middle west. He has assured the Green Bay committee that he will have ready for their meeting a brief survey of the Green Bay extension work. Actual recommendations will be made.

This Popularity Points to Value of Chrysler Results

The continued popularity of the Chrysler Six is a very definite suggestion to the buyer. It is evident that a car so eagerly desired delivers valuable results that belong to the Chrysler alone. This fact suggests the wisdom of studying the Chrysler Six at first hand.

A ride, for example, shows at once why Chrysler Six owners are so enthusiastic. After trying the acceleration and testing the tremendous power of its motor, with its high-gear range of from 2 to over 70 miles an hour, come to a quick, smooth stop with the self-equalizing Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes. You'll find it possesses a flashing pick-up that no words can describe. It must be experienced to be comprehended. This is a desirable result that Chrysler alone gives you, because its engineers have developed a new perfection of gas distribution, special combustion chambers and a scientific heat distribution through the applied science of thermo-dynamics.

Chrysler facts are worth knowing because there is no other car on the market that offers a similar performance or an equal enjoyment. Once you ride in the car you will never be content until that enjoyment is yours. We are eager to demonstrate Chrysler's superior and different results.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS

We think, with the exception of the ir-reconcilable prohibitionists, the people of Wisconsin would welcome the referendum on the question whether congress shall amend the Volstead act to permit the manufacture of beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content. The referendum at most can only be considered an expression of opinion. It would not bind congress to act unless a similar expression should come from a substantial majority of the states, and even then the obligation would be purely moral.

The action of the Wisconsin senate is, of course, predicated on the assumption that congress has the power to modify the Volstead act in the manner suggested. This would be a question for the supreme court ultimately to determine, but our opinion is that it has this power. It would all depend upon whether the legalizing of beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content would be within the meaning of the constitutional amendment which prohibits the manufacture and sale of "intoxicating" beverages. If congress should raise the percentage specified in the Volstead act it would then become a question between it and the supreme court as to what and what is not an intoxicating beverage. The inclination, we believe, would be in favor of congressional judgment, irrespective of what the justices of the supreme court might think of the matter personally. The question would, of course, be one solely of fact, and if congress resolved the decision a certain way it is not likely the supreme court would disturb it, unless it was palpably a fraud.

There is much difference of opinion in the country as to whether legalizing of beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content would result in an improvement of the present depraved liquor conditions. Those who want beer naturally will say it would bring improvement. The inflexible prohibitionists assert it would bring about no improvement and would invite a return of the old-time saloon. There is truth in both contentions, and on the other hand, there are answers to both. The brewing interests of the country are strong for the change, and their advocacy of it and active efforts in its behalf, will not improve its standing with those who are in doubt. In reaching an opinion on the question, we should endeavor to lay aside all commercial considerations and treat the subject solely on a social and moral basis.

SPRING TOWN-CLEANING

Old-fashioned housecleaning is almost extinct and spring is now less of a domestic terror. What with varnished floors, rugs instead of carpets, vacuum cleaners and other modern equipment, houses are kept cleaner the year around and spring and fall orgies of cleaning are concerned chiefly with general cleaning of a less catastrophic sort and getting winter clothing properly stored or given away.

But with more orderly cleaning activities going on within the home there has come a zeal for cleaning up whole communities. Cities large and small now have their annual clean-up campaigns with special attention to streets and parks and yards. In this field the old-fashioned, spasmodic methods still prevail. Instead of keeping the community clean week after week, many things are neglected for months until the annual clean-up drive is on.

With rapidly growing civic spirit and cooperation it should not be long before the special campaign of a week or so enlarges to a habit that carries through most of the year. When that time comes in any town a very big forward step will have been taken in health, attractiveness and wholesome community life.

THE TOLL RUST TAKES

Chemists and engineers estimate that rust destroys structural steel of a value of $300,000,000 every year and that metal of all kinds and purposes disintegrated by corrosion every year will exceed a billion dollars. Great Britain's entire production of iron and steel would not replace the iron and steel destroyed by rust throughout the world each year.

Chemists have never learned the exact reason why certain metals corrode, so they have not been able to create a perfect preventative. But there are certain simple rules which, if observed, greatly curtail the ravages of rust. The fundamental rule of rust prevention involves protection against the atmosphere. Protection is best obtained through adequate painting and careful housing.

Millions of dollars in structural steel and machinery are destroyed annually in the United States through the neglect of the owners or caretakers. Careless public officials have been known to leave costly bridges and other public structures unprotected by paint. In many sections of the country expensive farm machinery can be seen in the fields and barnyards exposed to the sun, rain and snow and rapidly deteriorating. The proper care of metal roofs and eaves would save American property owners millions each year. It is nothing short of criminal to permit such waste when a modicum of care and a can of paint or weather-tight barn will prevent it.

THE GIFT WITH A STRING

Many people say the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York is foolish for refusing the legacy of a $3,000,000 art collection left by the late Senator Clark of Montana. But perhaps the trustees are right.

The donor's will provided that the collection must be kept intact. It contains many things the museum would have been very glad to get, but some that it did not want. It would have disarranged the whole plan of that great museum to install, as one collection, the various classes of art objects collected by the donor. It would also have encouraged other people to tie a similar string to their gifts. So the museum preserves its independence.

It was natural for Mr. Clark to do what he did. But it was another example of the "dead hand" reaching from beyond the grave to control legacies intended for public purposes, often defeating the donor's own good intentions. Almost every philanthropic institution meets with this difficulty over and over again.

It is well for anyone who makes a gift for the public benefit to reflect that posterity may know better what is good for it than he knows now, and so avoid making needless restrictions.

How does it feel when you hold your head up, and breathe with your chest like thrown out? No wonder you're proud as a Pekinese pup. Say, tell me, what brought it about?
Why, listen here, Mister, you don't know the half. I've learned about health and lots more. When I was to think—well, I just have to laugh at it learning I passed up before.

YOUTH POISON

It would not be surprising to hear almost any day now that the Board of Underwriters has ruled that the duty chain at Vassar shall be chemically fireproofed. The bearers should not be denied their right to smoke while doing their duty. Vassar students recently voted in favor of the privilege of smoking, and many of them thought the school authorities should provide smoking rooms.

Is tobacco more injurious to women than it is to men? There is no scientific evidence that it is, but I believe it is more injurious to young women than it is to young men. The girl who acquires the cigarette habit almost invariably begins secretly, even though she eventually acknowledges her habit or even parades it publicly. She begins secretly because deep within her is the conscience which tells her that it is something shameful, her conscience picks a fight. After a time, perhaps, the dulling effect of this narcotic drug on the conscience enables the girl to acknowledge her habit, and especially so if she finds that other girls or women, even women she respects, are fond of smoking. But anybody who knows the rudiments of simple psychology knows that no woman or man can carry on a secret practice which is in any way shameful without losing something in the line of character, personality, not to mention health. Mind, I do not brand every woman who is a victim of the tobacco habit as bad, but I do mean to suggest that this practice, secret or open, is a flaw that lessens the beauty and worth of the jewel.

An argument sometimes heard is that smoking is more injurious to women because they have a more delicately adjusted nervous system than men is invalid for the simple reason that the nervous system of a woman is not more delicately adjusted nor more delicate in any way than that of a man. The notion that women are more delicate than men is on propagated by the fake female tonic interests for profit.

Tobacco is relatively more injurious in youth than in mature age because, impairing the general health as it does, lowering physical and mental efficiency as it does, the poison has a disastrous effect upon growth and development of body, mind and shall I say soul or character. After an individual has attained full development of body, mind and character, of habits and judgement, then perhaps he or she may indulge in this narcotic in a temperate way without suffering any injury from it. Few persons attain their full growth in these respects before the age of 21 years and many not until 25 years.

An objection which applies to cigarette smoking in general as compared with pipe or cigar smoking, applies with even greater force in smoking by young women. This objection is that the cigarette smoker seldom uses tobacco temperately, but is almost certain to indulge excessively. The cigarette, ready made, or hand made, is adopted for excess. The average cigarette smoker, young or old, masculine or feminine, craves a "pill" whenever he or she feels "nervous" or embarrassed or uneasy or something; whereas the pipe smoker or cigar smoker ordinarily arranges some sort of schedule and adheres to it with a fair constancy. The temperate smoker saves his smoke for his regular hour, say after dinner, or after the day's work or play is over. The cigarette smoker is almost never content with such a schedule, but must nibble more or less hourly at the dope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Third Great Plague

Not long ago you gave a very interesting talk about the three great plagues, cancer, tuberculosis and syphilis, but you failed to say anything about the last mentioned. Has syphilis any relation to leprosy? Is there danger if a person with syphilis visits a cottage where all have to use the same wash basin and towels? (Mrs. S. S.)
Answer.—The essential facts about syphilis are given in a general letter on the subject which I shall be glad to send you on receipt of your request for it (no clippings) and a self stamped addressed envelope. Syphilis and leprosy have no relationship. There would be great likelihood of spread of the disease in the circumstances you mention.

ROLLO

Saturday Sermon

(The following sermon was prepared especially for the Post-Crescent by the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical church.)

"And Jesus said, 'Upon this rock will I build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.' (Matt. 16:18.)

Peter had just witnessed his great confession, saying, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." It was in view of this great confession that the Master said, "Blessed art thou, Simon, son of Jonah. Flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven." Further, in view of this brave witness a new name, Petros is given to Peter. "And I say also unto thee, that thou art Peter and upon this rock will I build my church."

There are two very significant thoughts expressed in the text in reference to the church, the builder of the church, and the safety of the church. This is the first time in the New Testament that we meet with this much used and much abused word, church. The question naturally arises, what is the meaning of the word as used in the text? You will note that Jesus here speaks of "my church." Who constitute the church of the Living Lord? Whose bride? This title does not belong to any earthly organization. It belongs to that vast number of true believers on earth and in heaven. The church consists of those who are united to Christ by faith, whether they be on earth or whether they be in heaven. These are His special property, "my church." They are the gift of the Father, the objects of His most tender care and love.

CHRIST THE BUILDER

Christ Himself is the builder of the church. It is the first of all built upon a rock. Whether this rock be Peter makes little difference to us here. Peter made a great discovery. He grasped a most glorious truth. "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Upon this testimony and upon this confession the church is built. Peter was the first of all mankind to make this confession. He was also to be first in other things. He was to be the first in that great edifice, the church which the Savior was intending to build. This church was to be composed of such who would also make a like confession. Peter was the first great stone in that great building and all others are built upon him and no one is fit to be built into this spiritual building unless able to make the same true confession.

Christ is the builder of the church. He prepares the material out of which the structure is to be reared. Every stone used is a miracle of His saving grace. The spirit of God is the great transforming power in our hearts making us fit for the building. Christ not only provided the material but also the workman. We are laborers together with God. God has got other work we as Christians can do is to bring others to the Christ and thus add to this great spiritual edifice and contribute something to the glory of God. Christ will also complete the erection of this building. All power is given unto Him in heaven and on earth. "I will build my church." Truly there may be hindrances in the building but these shall be overcome. At times the storms of persecution may howl around the structure and men may have to do instead of work. Sometimes the frost of unbelief sets in and men's hands get so cold that they cannot give much, or their tongues become so stiff that they will not speak for their Master, or their knees may become so cramped so that they cannot pray. At times there may be strikes. There are family quarrels, church wrangles, denominational split

Adventures Of The Twins

Hunter is the Best Sauce
Nancy and Nick looked at Mister Peg Leg, then they looked at Farmer Greenway's sass-patch garden.

They were very curious.
"What has this got to do with Mrs. Bunny's magic kettle?" they asked.
"Mrs. Bunny said her children wouldn't eat their meals and wanted to buy a magic kettle. But you made her buy some chicken-wire instead and then brought us here. Why?"
Mister Peg Leg grinned. "Just watch for a few minutes and you will soon see why. Come and hide behind this old cart and see what happens."

First of all along came Mister Ben Bunny from his office. He looked very important and dignified.

When he got opposite an extra wide hole in the fence, he stopped and took out his watch. Then he put it back and looked carefully in all directions.

Then he stepped in through the wide hole in the fence and disappeared between the new pea vines.
"Well, for goodness sake!" said Nancy.
"Sh!" whispered Mister Peg Leg.

Next came Cutie Cottontail and Ben Bunny, Jr., who were both in the same grade at Helter Skelter School.

When they were opposite the extra large fence-hole they turned and scrambled through without a word. And they, too, were soon lost from view in a lettuce bed.

Right and her cousin Belinda Bunny and her cousin Rebecca Rabbit.

With a giggle and a wiggle, they disappeared through the hole in the fence, and the last the Twins saw of them they were heading for the place where the best greens were thickest.

"Humph!" said Mister Peg Leg. "Magic kettle, indeed! Magic fiddlesticks! What they need is no magic kettle but a magic switch that will teach them not to steal and worry their mother to death. There isn't a thing wrong with their appetites—not one of them."

When all of the rabbits had eaten their fill and come out through the extra large hole in the fence again, with their sides sticking out like puddings, Mister Peg Leg unrolled the chicken wire and got out a hammer and some nails.

"Come, children, we'll fix this up right here and now," said he. And before four o'clock there wasn't a place in that fence big enough to get your hand through.

"Now we'll see if poor Mrs. Bunny needs a magic kettle," he said.

That afternoon after-school all the bunny children came romping along as fast as they could toward Farmer Greenway's sass-patch garden.

But lo and behold! It was all shut

I. O. O. F. AND REBEKAHS HOLD JUBILEE MEET

Celebrate One-hundred Sixth Anniversary of Foundation of Order

Kaukauna—The local Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges will celebrate the one hundred and sixth anniversary of the founding of the organizations Saturday evening and Sunday. A jubilee meeting will be held Saturday evening in Odd Fellow hall on Second-st. A prominent speaker has been secured to give an address. Music and various forms of entertainment will be furnished. The meeting is open to all local members of the lodges and visiting members.

Anniversary services will be conducted for the two lodges at 7:30 Sunday evening in First Congregational church. The organizations will march to the church in a body. The service is open to the public. The Rebekah and First Congregational congregations will unite in the service. It was announced the Methodist church also would take part but because a special schedule of services are conducted every Sunday evening in the Methodist church, it was decided not to take part in the Odd Fellow service.

The sermon of the evening will be given by the Rev. Daniel Woodward who will preach on "Odd Fellowship Entering Upon a New Era of Activity." The Scripture lesson will be read by the Rev. E. L. Worthman. The Congregational choir will sing a special number.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Rev. Joseph Van Bogart of Green Bay, will give an address at the regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus Monday evening in K. C. hall. The Rev. Mr. VanBogart formerly was assistant priest in St. Mary church. He recently was transferred from Tigerton to Green Bay where he is in charge of a new parish.

The regular meeting of Odd chapter of Eastern Star was held Friday evening in Masonic hall. Routine business was transacted. Candidates were balloted upon and plans for initiation were made.

Kaukauna Elks held their regular meeting Thursday evening in Elk hall. Regular business was disposed of.

The Knights of Columbus Ladies held their annual dancing party Friday evening in Eagle hall. About 75 couples attended. Music was furnished by Electric City orchestra. The hall was attractively decorated in spring colors.

Kaukauna—Repair work and improvements that will cost approximately $6,800 is being done on St. Mary Catholic church on Seventh-st. The roof is being covered with asbestos shingles. The job was awarded on contract to the Kaukauna Lumber Co. and will cost about $5,800.

A crew from the city electric and water departments is engaged in re-wiring and installing new electric light fixtures in the church. The new fixtures are of lantern style with the bulb encased in prism glass. The re-wiring and installation of lights will cost about $3,000.

SPEND $6,800 FOR REPAIRS ON CHURCH

Kaukauna—The schedule for services in Kaukauna churches for Sunday is as follows:

Brokaw Methodist, Rev. W. P. Ehlens, pastor. Sunday school, 9:30; lesson: "The Character and Message of Stephen." Morning worship, 10:30; theme: "The Present Status of the Prohibition Movement." The Rev. E. E. Barker of Eau Claire will speak. Epworth league, 6:45; topic: "The Unconquerable Christ." Leader, Miss Irene Jacobson. Evening service, 7:30, subject: "A Misplaced Faith."

St. Mary, Rev. Conrad Rupp, pastor. Masses at 5:25, 6:20, 8 o'clock and 10 o'clock.

First Congregational, Rev. Daniel Woodward, pastor. Sunday school, 9:45; morning worship, 10:45; young people, 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock; evening service, 7:30. ARMY OF RAKERS WILL CLEAN OFF WAUPACA LINKS

Members and Friends Invited to Task Wednesday—H. S. Economy Prom Tonight

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Weather permitting the annual raking afternoon of the Waupaca Golf club will be held the afternoon of Wednesday, April 22. All members and their friends will be present to rake the links. The golf course is becoming one of the real scenic spots of Waupaca. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the clubhouse in the afternoon without charge. Also, the luckiest raker will be presented with a half dozen of the best golf balls procurable. Work has been progressing nicely at the grounds in the past two weeks under supervision of the director, F. R. Fisher, and the grounds keeper, William Ewald. Five of the new clay and sand greens are about completed with their adjoining bunkers and they are artistic. Everything should be in readiness for play by the first of May. Members are eagerly awaiting the opening day.

G. T. Carroll, W. G. Rudersdorf and Ralph Hoffman have been appointed the golf club tournament committee for the coming year and they promise activity for every member directly after the opening of the season. Their announcement will be made shortly.

The junior prom at the high school Saturday evening will commence at 8 o'clock, with grand march at 8:30. Dancing is to cease at 11:45. Miss Porter and her orchestra of this city are to furnish the music.

Juniors this year are setting an example of economy in prom expenditures by holding to certain restrictions. High school girls will wear dresses not to exceed $15 in cost. Local music is used and the affair is at the school gymnasium instead of a downtown hall.

The attendance is restricted to students of the two classes or members of the alumni and a charge of two dollars a couple is to be made to the alumni.

Waupaca Odd Fellows and Rebekahs celebrated the one hundred thirty anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America at their hall Thursday evening. The evening was enjoyed by a large number who divided themselves into groups who danced and those who played cards.

In "Learning to Love" Constance shows modern girls the various ways to capture a husband. The new comedy is a First National attraction written for Joseph M. Schenck Productions by John Emerson and Anita Loos. Sidney Franklin directed.

A very popular actress with movie fans will be at the New Bijou Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Eva Novak will star in "The Fatal Mistake." This is the story of a reporter's downfall and subsequent triumph. A large part is played by the girl in the story who takes the part of a maid and at the end is found to be a special detective. With William Fairbanks who plays opposite her she goes through a last thrilling climax does work that would be creditable to any active stunt actor. With her as a supporting cast are Wilfred Lucas, Bruce Gordon, Frank Clark, Harry McCoy, Paul Weigel, and Dot Farley. The direction is by Scott Dunlap. Competent reviewers whose opinions have been read say that this picture is very well done. Story and action are well combined and the picture is further reported to be an all around success.

NOTED PLAYERS FOR NEW PHILIBIN PICTURE

One of the biggest casts of principals in support of a star ever used in a motion picture was used by Universal in making "Fifth Avenue Models," a Jewel production, starring Mary Philbin and showing to the Elite theatre today and Sunday.

It is the screen version of "The Best in Life," a novel by Muriel Hine that made a sensation immediately upon publication and caused the author to be hailed immediately as one of the literary discoverers of the year.

FINDS RELIEF FOR COLDS

Mrs. Nancy Mather, Box 56, Richwood, Ohio, writes: FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR COMPOUND is a fine medicine for coughs and colds, as it helped me when nothing else would. Mothers everywhere demand a reliable cough remedy free from injurious narcotics. Supplying this need for fifty years, FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR COMPOUND one of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon FOLEY'S. Sold everywhere. adv.

Worcester Milk Must Come From Guernsey, State Says

Madison—Milk dealers in Wisconsin are prohibited from selling any milk as Guernsey that does not come from Guernsey cows, under an order issued by the department of markets here. The order defines milk and condemns as unfair competition the sale of any product as Guernsey which does not come within the definition.

Penalty for violation of the order is $5,000 fine, one year's imprisonment, and, in case of a corporation, revocation of corporate rights.

Guernsey milk is referred to in the order as milk from "cows registered as purebreds in the herd book of the American Cattle club or unregistered cows, all of which have the general breed characteristics of Guernsey purebreds."

Milk to be called Guernsey is required to come exclusively from Guernsey cattle.

STREET DEPARTMENT FINISHES CITY CLEANUP

New London—Albert Gesso, street superintendent and his crew finished up the city cleanup campaign on Saturday, and have left the city in such good and clean shape that they are receiving considerable praise from local residents, and even outsiders.

The campaign required slightly over a week.

What Balsam-Wool Does For The Home-Builder

1. Increases winter comfort by keeping the furnace heat in and the winter cold out.
2. Cuts from one-fourth to one-third off the annual fuel bill.
3. Permits a reduction of 20% in boiler capacity and radiation.
4. Increases summer comfort by shutting out the heat from the hot summer sun.
5. Balsam-Wool is an efficient sound deadener. Applied in inside partitions and outside walls, it makes each room more private and the whole house more quiet.

Balsam-Wool is doing all of these things for thousands of home-owners today. It is low in cost and economical to install. It save smoney on heating equipment. And it pays for itself with the fuel it saves. Can you afford to build without it?

Seek Outstanding Christian
Young Men for Y. M. C. A.
World Camp

Twenty boys from the United States and eighty from nearly every other country on the globe will camp and play together and hold meetings this summer in Switzerland under the auspices of the world's committee of Young Men's Christian Associations, whose headquarters is at Geneva, Switzerland, according to an announcement received by the local boy's department of Appleton Y. M. C. A.

Older Boys' Camp Conference at Camp Vauxmarcus Switzerland, several delegates between sixteen and nineteen years of age. Each boy must be an outstanding Christian leader and must represent some organization or group of boys. The selection of boys is for the most part in the hands of Young Men's Christian Associations, private schools, and other boy organizations. J. Alden Behnke of Appleton was chosen from hundreds of boys as one of the Wisconsin representatives on the first world tour of the Y. M. C. A. last year.

As an aid in creating better relationships among older boys, we request the Y. M. C. A. to start a camp where older boys and young men from every country can meet together in an atmosphere of sincerity and joy.

Fair Weather Sailors

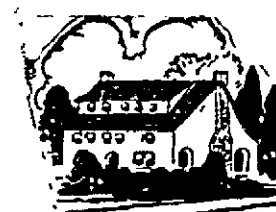

IS your home safe? Your house is insured against fire, your household goods are insured against damage from fire.

But is your home fully protected?

Half way preparedness has never equalled total preparedness. Fair weather sailors are always the last to admit the possibility of disaster. They are the first to complain when the need of greater safety and greater protection is apparent.

Millions of dollars in property were lost recently in the tornado swept area in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri. The wind storm that visited Appleton Monday evening was a small edition of a tornado. The next time it visits Appleton it may not be so harmless. The satisfaction of knowing your home and other property are protected is well worth the the investment in tornado insurance. Protection of your property costs little and pays big dividends in satisfaction. Get some tornado insurance today. A thousand dollars of insurance costs a very little over a dollar a year.

MOTOR BUS IS
HAULING SYSTEM

But Babson Does Not Think
Busses Will Put Railways
Out of Business

Babson Park, Mass. — "Shall we issue unlimited franchises to the motor bus lines, if so who shall operate them?" Because of widespread discussion this question was asked, today to Roger W. Babson, the statistician, who calls attention to several vital points in the future of our transportation systems.

"Without doubt busses have come to stay," says Mr. Babson. "The motor coach is fast becoming a definite and logical link in our transportation systems, both urban and interurban. For railroads, street railways or aristocratic communities to attempt to stop the development of motor coach travel, is like attempting to sweep back the ocean with a broom. Efficiency, comfort and speed are all in favor of the motor coach or bus, as it is commonly called, and the sooner communities realize it, the better for all concerned. When a stream of water is dashing down a hill it is far better to dig a channel and control this stream within safe limits than to attempt to dam its flow. If Holland had not followed this policy it would today be a barren marsh instead of a fertile garden.

"This does not mean that railroads or street railways will cease to function. As the electric light did not put the gas companies out of business, so the motor coach will not necessarily make the steam roads or the street railways valueless. I say 'necessarily' because there may be far more hope for the street railway company which does not adopt motor coach transportation. I am bullish on steam railroads because they are the natural transporters of freight, which has always been their great source of income. In fact, it is now sort of a death bed repentance to see steam railroads fighting for passenger service which they have stated all along was carried at a loss. The railroads have nothing to worry about if they tend to their freight business and get a proper charge for carrying it on. Many interurban and other street railways will ultimately become an adjunct of the steam roads for carrying perishable freight. Owing to the great congestion in the freight yards of the steam railroads, it is much more practical to take fruit, vegetables, meats and other perishable goods by trolley, which is practically door-to-door delivery, than by steam roads. The street railway tracks in many of our cities will be used to shuttle freight cars from the steam roads into the factories, department stores, and other building throughout the city. Both steam roads and up-to-date electric roads can continue to exist, but it will be through cooperation in the development of freight, each handling what it can best handle and getting paid a rate sufficient to take care of the investment.

"When it comes to passenger business," continued Mr. Babson, "with in the next twenty-five years 30 per cent of the passengers of this country will be carried either by motor coach or by air. We are fast approaching the time when we will reach a peak in the number of people carried on rails. When this peak is finally reached, the decline will be very rapid.

"Now the motor coach business belongs to the street railways and not to the steam railroads. The steam roads built private rights of way and should be protected on these private rights of way, but the street railways spent money on street widening, paving and are entitled to the motor coach business. For the railroads to attempt to say that the public should not have the use of motor coaches between two cities like Lowell and Boston seems to me to be absolutely ridiculous. Furthermore, if such a motor coach business is to be developed, the street railways which heretofore operated electric cars on such routes should have the franchise. Any other decision would be absolutely unfair, and I believe the courts would look upon the same as a confiscation of the street railway company's business. If our steam railroads are wise they will build up their freight business and study the possibilities of air transportation instead of fussing with such motor coach transportation as logically belongs to the street railways.

"I always hesitate to advise in these columns the purchase of any security, especially securities in a new field. Usually the first people to go into a new line of business lose money. Some 50 per cent of new corporations go through reorganization. Although the early investors perform a real service in breaking the

Gain In Grain Prices Is
Principal Gain In Trade

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
New York, April 25.—In addition to the somewhat uncertain improvement in textile production, the gain in farm prices seems to be the chief advantage, which business now enjoys over last year. After many ups and downs in farm prices there is still left a substantial advance over last year's which represents a substantial increment to business as a whole.

So far as other barometers are concerned, the present business situation is uncertain. Some of these barometers show an upward tendency, others are declining. There are more favorable indications today than on month ago, and business sentiment shows improvement.

Comparing the present turn in industry with those which came in the spring of 1923 and again in 1924, it may be said that overproduction has recently been checked in a more timely way, and the conclusion may be drawn that any recession will be more moderate than in those years. A condition of stability should be restored earlier. The possibility of a prolonged depression is much more remote.

Nevertheless, the preponderance of evidence based on the most reliable and sensitive barometers of industry favors the conclusion that some further recession will develop in the immediate future, and that a period of business which may be classed as "only fair" is in prospect.

STOCKS AT PEAK
March data suggest that the physical volume of production and stocks of commodities have reached a peak, at least temporarily.

The trend of commodity prices is still downward and is likely to continue so a little longer. Bradstreet's March 1 index showed 28 gains and 68 declines out of 106 commodities. The April 1 index showed 16 gains and 43 declines.

As to money and finance: The upward trend of interest rates has been checked by the recession in business activity. In the field of banking the Federal Reserve system reports indicate some decline in earning assets, notably in holdings of Government securities. Demand deposits have also decreased and the ratio of loans and discounts to such deposits is lower. The reserve ratio, however, is about the same as in 1922 and is only a little lower than it was last year. The gold reserve, while lower than in 1924, has recently been maintained at over 76 per cent. In short, while the financial situation indicates some readjustment in business, it is, nevertheless, so strong a to make the development of any serious situation out of the question.

LABOR
Employment of labor in March held practically level or decreased but slightly and the earnings of laborers were well maintained. Taken in connection with the decreasing cost of living, this is a favorable indication as to purchasing power.

Developments in foreign trade in March were more encouraging than anticipated, with exports gaining more than usual for the season.

It should be emphasized that at this time curtailment of production is on the whole desirable. A large volume of overstockings is not a favorable indication which is frequently mentioned in the press. Carloadings correspond rather closely with production, and, as overproduction is one of the current difficulties, a decrease would tend to relieve the trouble.

On the other hand, the average weekly volume of bank debits (checks drawn) continued upward in March, amounting to $11,698,000,000 against $10,899,000,000 in February. The adjusted index moved up. This indicates an extraordinary volume of business transactions and is remarkable in view of the current decline in commodity prices and in the volume of production. In explanation it may be suggested that the March figures for bank debits were still influenced by continued heavy speculative transactions.

The net conclusion must be that there were indications that the upswing in the business cycle was being checked in March, but that data for another month must be awaited before a definite downturn can be announced. (Copyright by U. P. O. News Service, Inc.)

Scholar Says Astronomy Was Religious Science Familiar to World 12,000 Years Ago

By Associated Press
Los Angeles — A new ship was launched here on the seas of archaeology when Edward C. Gotsinger, astronomer and searcher of antiquities, in a paper presented by him before the Argonaut club, a philosophical body meeting in the University of Southern California, outlined the principles of "zodiacology" whereby, he asserted, he was able to trace the origin of 20 written languages to the signs of the zodiac.

His findings, Mr. Gotsinger declared, proved that astronomy was a religious science familiar to the more intelligent classes of the ancient world upwards of 12,000 years ago; that the Bible, by means of zodiacology, now may be made to reveal many secrets, religious and historical, which hitherto have been locked books; that Israel has a history going back 6,500 years into a period when its high priests, as revealers of the mysteries of the heavens, were more advanced in some branches of astronomy than the stargazers of today, and that there have been fundamental errors in the rendering by Egyptologists of some of the earliest inscriptions found in Egypt.

These epiphanies, the speaker declared, became tribal or brotherhood symbols, and from that plane stepped into place as written characters, each representing an idea to become later, in altered form, the letters of the modern graphic systems.

trail, they usually get experience rather than dividends. On the other hand, I do feel that clients may be justified in going into certain companies with friends whom they know as honest men and who know the motor coach business. The companies which control the great motor coach transportation business in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities should have a bright future. Of course, the great opportunity is to purchase the securities of street railway companies which are now stumbling as street railways, but which still have a chance to acquire or inherit this great industry.

"Money is still plentiful and cheap, with general business as reflected by the Robinson chart at 3 per cent above normal, and fundamental conditions sound, there is no good reason why bus transportation should not develop rapidly."

LUMBER INDUSTRY
IN MIDST OF BOOM

Production and Shipment
Figures Show Lumber
Market in Healthy Condition

That the lumber industry is in the full tide of its seasonal expansion is shown by national statistics for the week ended April 11. The gain in orders, as compared with the previous week, was surprisingly large, and those received by three hundred sixty-nine of the larger commercial softwood mills amounted to a full hundred per cent of their production. Shipments also made an increase, but amounted to only 97 per cent of output, which probably made a slight gain. These figures, says the American Lumberman, Chicago, show that the market is steadily improving.

Owing to a fall off in southern pine production of 6.3 per cent during the week, orders, although 1.5 per cent below the previous week's total, were 5.02 per cent above the actual output. These figures reflect a policy of manufacture according to demand that will give the market greater strength. Most of the new orders come from northern and eastern centers, demand from the southern States being held back by drought, while that from sections where there has been rain has shown decided increase. The fir mills of the Pacific Northwest are succeeding in their efforts to cut down the overproduction that had brought prices below costs. Orders for the week were 8 per cent above output. Ninety-five identical mills had reported shipments for the previous week, ended April 4, as 988,242 feet, as against a three-year average of 747,944 feet. Mill stocks at practically all Coast plants are being reduced and are becoming broken in assortment, while prices are firming up. California buying has recently improved, but Atlantic coast takings are restricted. The softwood producers find that in the middle West, city demand is better than that from country districts. Spring work in their fields; they buy conservatively and pay cash. Retailers have been holding down their stocks, so that present deliveries to jobs will make early replacements necessary.

Hardwoods are in improved call from the building trades, especially interior trim and flooring plants; there has been a pick up in demand from the automobile industry, while furniture makers continue to take a good volume. Foreign business has so improved as to be the bright spot of the market. While prices are low, there is noted an upward tendency.

RAIL EMPLOYES ARE BEST
PAID WORKMEN IN WORLD

"Are the employees of the railways of the United States the best paid large body of working men in the world?" asks the Railway Age, which gives data from this and other countries indicating that the question should be answered in the affirmative.

It quotes statistics recently issued by the International Office at Geneva, Switzerland, which show that "real wages—that is wages measured by the amount of necessities and comforts they will buy—in various European countries are only one-fourth to one-half as great as in the United States. The Railway Age adds:

"The 'Ministry of Labor Gazette' of England recently published statistics which confirm the conclusions suggested by those compiled by the International Labor Office that 'real' wages average very much higher in the United States than in any other country. Taking the 'real' wages paid in London, England, as 100 per cent it found that the comparative 'real' wages paid in typical centers of population and industry in other countries were as follows: In European countries, from 29 per cent in Lisbon, Portugal, to 85 per cent in Amsterdam, Holland; in Sydney, Australia, 144 per cent; in Ottawa, Canada, 164 per cent; in Philadelphia, 221 per cent.

"These statistics from two different European sources show that, measured by their purchasing power, the wages paid in American industry generally greatly exceed those paid in other countries throughout the world."

Better Light
Means Better
Sight

Our eyes are the windows through which we see. Good sight adds to the joy of living. Electric lights are most valuable and best for reading, for they save the eyes by making it possible to read without strain. Install Delco-Light for your eyes' sake.

Chickering

THE first Chickering piano made in 1823—the work of Jonas Chickering's own hands—is now in the possession of Chickering & Sons, a treasured and carefully guarded relic.

The remarkable condition of this little piano today testifies to the thought and care the young artisan put into its construction. Its slender voice is still clear and resonant, although tinged by its great age with a far-off quality as though it sang, as indeed it does, of other days and other times.

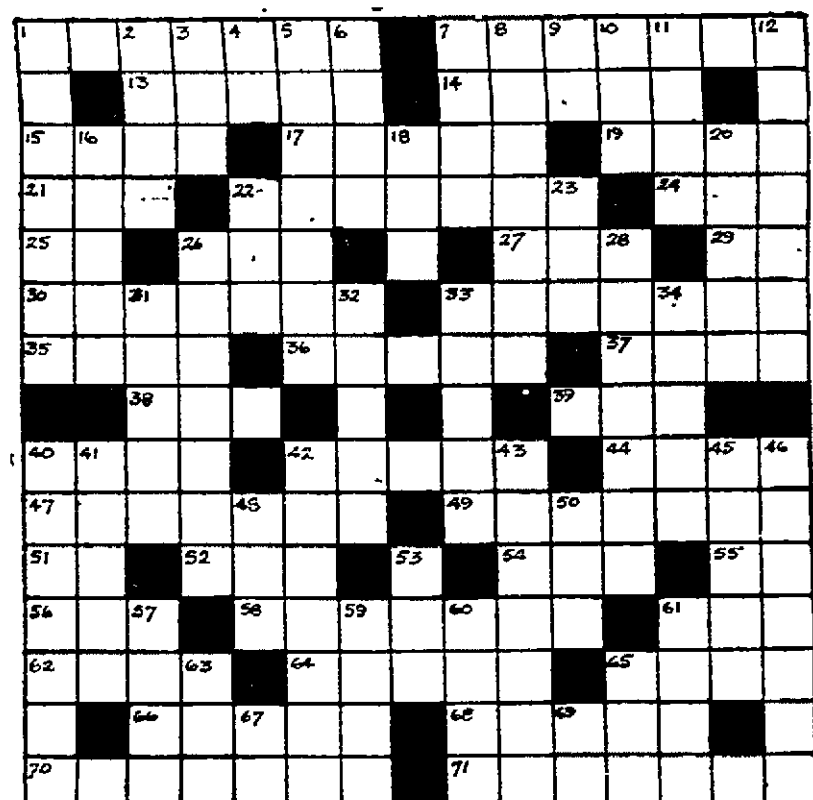

And down through the years famous artists have chosen the Chickering upon which to display their genius to the world. In countless homes its exquisite beauty of tone has sung its way into the hearts of music lovers who have desired and had only the Chickering.

Chickering prices $875 to $2500.

Enlarge Program Of Athletics At Training Camp

Reserve Officers With Experience as Coaches Will Direct Play

Athletes will be given greater attention in the Citizens' Military Training camps this year than ever before. Every effort is now being made at Sixth Corps Area headquarters to secure qualified and experienced coaches from among reserve officers of the corps area to serve as instructors in the C. M. T. C. and assist the regular army officers with the various forms of athletics which will be provided at the camps.

Few people who have not personally visited one of the Citizens' Military Training camps realize the variety of athletics that are available to the young men in attendance. A partial list of the athletic events would include baseball, football, swimming, basketball, pushball, swimming, tennis, boxing, wrestling, and field events of all kinds. Athletics are not haphazard events of the camp for the amusement of the young men in attendance, but are carefully planned, thought out and supervised by competent coaches as any other training feature of the camp. They form a very important part of the training of the young men in the camps because it is possible to teach team-work, sportsmanship, tolerance, respect, obedience and benefits to health from proper exercise through properly conducted athletic events with a better chance of success than in any other way. This will be good news to the young men who are to attend the C. M. T. camps and expect to enter the full camps and experience the full training in addition to the expert coaching they will receive in these lines of sports at the C. M. T. camps the military and athletic training during the thirty days in the out of doors will harden them so that they will be in wonderful condition to enter these try-outs.

The commanding general of the Sixth Corps Area, at 1819 W. Pershing Road, Chicago, Ill., will furnish any information in connection with applying for attendance at the C. M. T. camps to those who are interested.

Maple Creek To Have New School

Bids for a new brick rural schoolhouse on the site of the former Maple Creek school in district No. 4, will be called for in about two weeks as a result of a meeting of the building committee of the district Thursday at the office of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. The building will be erected this summer. The present building was condemned by the state department of education a few years ago, but the district had refused to build a new one until last month when an agreement was reached. William March, town of Maple Creek, is chairman of the committee.

Henry Spritzer, Appleton contractor was invited to be present at the meeting and talk to the committee. Mr. Spritzer built the new Plainville school, Seymour, last year and the Maple Creek school will be the same except for material. The Plainville school is made of a combination of brick and concrete. W. W. DeLong, Appleton architect, also attended the meeting.

Apple Elks Win Prizes
But Lose Tournament

Appleton Elks carried off first and second prizes in a bridge tournament with Oshkosh Elks in Oshkosh Thursday night, but lost the tournament on total points by a margin of 200. Eleven Appleton teams made the trip. First prize was won by C. J. Garvey and L. O. Hansen, while J. P. Frank and C. S. Dickinson took second. An Oshkosh team won third prize.

This was the first of a series of tournaments between Elks of the two cities. It is planned to have the Oshkosh bridge sharks here within the next two weeks for a return engagement.

Appleton in 1860 Was a Comparatively New City With Pettibone's a New Enterprise

J. PETTIBONE opened his Appleton store in 1860. At that time the city was some ten years old—the first house having been built in 1849. In spite of its infancy, the city had made surprising progress. New mills were constantly being erected, a plank road was in use from Menasha through to Kaukauna. Board walks were on most of the streets, and much progress was being made in civic affairs. The Pettibone store is one of the very few pioneer institutions of those days that has lived to 1925.

Appleton Prohibition in 1860

The Appleton Crescent of March 10th, 1860 says, "our city has been considerably interested the present week by some half dozen or more suits in justice courts for the sale of intoxicating liquors without a license. About all the whiskey sellers have been convicted and fined from $10. to $20. and in one or two instances the defendants went to jail because of their inability to pay. Most of the dealers have decided henceforth to sell nothing but beer and ale so that some good has been accomplished."

The First County Fair Was Held in '60

The first county fair of Outagamie County was held in 1860 in the park of Reverend Reeder Smith "near Appleton." The annual address was delivered by Professor R. Z. Mason. The committee on arrangements consisted of the president, Mr. Bogan, the secretary, Mr. Phinney, and George W. Spaulding. A. Foster and A. B. Everts. Although the Fair was held in a pouring rain, it was a great success. There was a goodly show in all departments, particularly those of cattle, horses, sheep, swine and calves. The Fine Arts room was thronged all day.

An Ordinance of 1860

At the session of the common council of Appleton, held in October, the following action was taken: The Ordinance to restrain cattle and horses from running at large was taken from the table and was duly passed and became No. 35 of the city. C. G. Hersey and James Gilmore, aldermen, resigned at this session. The city marshal said that the new ordinance was all right, but the animals wouldn't mind it.

Venison Steaks Were an 1860 Dish

Venison steak was in great abundance in Appleton in December 1860. Scores of deer were slaughtered without mercy by the rapacious hunters and the carcasses were marketed at the county seat. "The sportsmen hereabouts have been committing sad ravages with the deer since the first fall of snow. Many of these animals have been brought into town and are selling at $1. per 100 pounds, the same as beef."—Crescent. Large panthers were killed in the vicinity as well as deer.
